THE CHALLENGE

The successful pairing of good science and finance is essential for medical and health technology innovation. Yet steady and impactful sources of funding for emerging healthtech companies are intrinsically difficult, while at the same time, researchers and innovators often lack an ecosystem of collective thought and intellectual exchange.

WHAT DOES AENCO DO?

A "one stop shop" solutions provider and research collaboration hub for healthcare companies involved in blockchain development.

Combines its solutions platform and core financial ecosystem through the release of AEN token, as the key building block and extensions across all service and community deliveries.

Empowers innovative healthcare companies with digital financing capabilities, so that they focus on generating impactful technologies that transform our day to day lives.

Supported by an evolving regulated infrastructure and presence in major jurisdictions, Aenco delivers solutions and builds up a rapidly growing ecosystem.
